ALUMNI RALLY TO UNIVERSITY

RALLYING to the service of Alma Mater, Ohio University alumni throughout the country are giving their cooperation in the alumni's greatest undertaking, the erection of the Memorial Auditorium. Already 61 alumni have assumed the chairmanship of the campaign in as many Ohio counties, and 24 have undertaken the duties of chairmen in other states. These men and women will meet in Columbus at the Hotel Deshler, April 8th, to complete the campaign plans.

So enthusiastic and willing to work have the alumni shown themselves that it is only because of delay in communication with those in outlying districts and in far away states that the list of chairmen is as yet uncompleted. Of the few who declined to serve as chairman, nearly all gave excellent reasons for their decision, and offered to serve as best they could in some other capacity.

That the campaign will be carried through to victory with a rush of enthusiasm is assured by the many letters received from alumni commending the project. Everywhere the sentiment prevails that the men and women who have attended Ohio University have been impatiently waiting just such an opportunity for working and giving as the one which now presents itself.

In the words of one graduate: "If we ever intend to show our appreciation of what the University has done for us now is the time—a time of new and virile leadership, a time of renewed interest on the part of the alumni everywhere. Let's strike while the iron is hot."

GOOD WORD FROM NEAR AND FAR

"I think as alumni we have been carrying out a 'watchful waiting' policy quite long enough. I for one am 'fed up' on this 'oldest college west of the Alleghanies' business and I am willing to have my eyes turned toward the future. It is a fine thing, I suppose, to have a glorious past but I am more interested in a glorious future. The past is dead but the future presents to us a page all in white for us to write what we will, so let us put A Greater Ohio University across the whole sheet."

R. C. KENNEY, '12,
Clarksville, Tenn.

"When other universities are successful in putting across funds of one million dollars and better, surely the alumni will show their loyalty and appreciation for their Alma Mater to the tune of $300,000. I, for one, have been hoping for the last thirteen years that something could be started by the alumni, so that I could show my appreciation of my dear Alma Mater."

J. R. MAYES, '09, Medina, O.

"I am sure that every loyal 'Ohioan' will be interested in helping push over such a worthy cause, and you may count on me to do all I can in every respect."

GAIL H. HILL, '18, Findlay, O.

"To those of us who have been connected with Ohio University, and especially to those who have been graduated from its halls, it is always gratifying to know that her Alumni are up and doing"

LILLIAN HAUSCHILDT, '10, Piqua, O.

"Such an auditorium will be a memorial of which all Ohio University students, present, past, and future, can be justly proud."

ROBERT E. RUCKER, 14,
Fredericktown, O.

"The idea of an alumni memorial auditorium is most excellent. The amount asked for is modest considering the number of alumni, ex-students and friends who are interested. Other universities are putting these things across magnificently and the friends of Old Ohio cannot afford to lag behind."

FRED N. CUNNINGHAM, ex-'08
Steubenville, O.

"I am strong for any project endorsed by President Bryan and will do my best to carry out any campaign plans that may be formulated by the alumni."

D. M. COOPER, '10, Lisbon, O.

"The number of students now at 'Ohio' makes a new auditorium imperative and alumni should feel honored to be allowed to contribute to such a building as a memorial."

C. O. WILLIAMSON, '10, Wooster, O.

"After having the pleasure and privilege of attending the Alumni banquet on Saturday evening, March 8, at the Cincinnati Chamber of Commerce, I am sure every member of our Association will welcome the campaign, and willingly aid in raising an adequate sum for the purpose of erecting a memorial hall on the grounds of Alma Mater. This will enable more people to take advantage of the enjoyable occasions which bring old friends together where their friendships were formed."

EVA WILLIAMS, '15, Lebanon, O.

"I can think of nothing more commendable and appropriate, or that will be of more lasting benefit to all persons interested in Ohio University, than the successful carrying out of the campaign."

LELAND D. FLOYD, Whigville, O.

"I'll do my darndest to make Champaign County remember old Ohio."

C. A. MATHENY, '13,
North Lewisburg, Ohio.

"I am thoroughly in sympathy with the movement and will endeavor to see that Illinois does not fall down on her quota."

JOHN E. SNOW, '92, Chicago.

"Needless to say I am heartily in favor of the project and will give my services and my cash towards its support. I don't know how the rest of the alumni feel about it, but I myself have a feeling of homesickness when I am far away, and look forward to the time when I can return to Athens."

WILLIAM S. MERRITT, '06
Dallas, Texas.

"I am heartily in favor of the movement and will be glad to lend my earnest efforts in any way I can."

JOHN R. GODDARD, '17,
Healdton, Okla.

"The proposed Alumni Memorial Auditorium represents a real need for Ohio University, and will, I believe, strongly appeal to all lovers of the University."

S. G. LEHMAN, '15, Raleigh, N. C.

"The alumni hall is surely a pressing need. To be of aid in furthering such a project would be a real honor and I shall be more than glad to lend every effort possible."

CAMERON GULLETTE, '20,
Brookins, S. D.

"The project is a splendid one and will bring great credit to Alma Mater. I am of the opinion that every alumnus will welcome such an opportunity to be of service to old 'Ohio.'"

JOHN F. MOSKOFFIAN, '15.
Jamestown, N. D.

"I think that the idea of an alumni memorial auditorium is splendid and am sure that the Perry County alumni will contribute their share."

C. R. RIDENOUR, '12,
New Lexington, O.

"My experience while in college at Athens is a bright spot in the memory of my past, and I am continually reminded in present events of the advantages of being a member of this alumni association. I assure you, I will do all in my power to prove my loyalty to Ohio."

A. R. ALKIRE, '11,
Mt. Sterling, O.

"In the days of '83 to '88, it was sometimes suggested among the students, that it is an inherent weakness of a state supported institution, that it could not expect effective personal loyalty from its alumni. The reason back of the statement never seemed to me sufficient. This movement gives an opportunity to the sons and daughters of Ohio University, to prove that, at least as to this one institution, not only the reasoning but the conclusion was false. It is certainly a general impression that, with the beginning of this college year, Ohio University reached a turning point, and has started on a new career of wider use, greater efficiency and higher standing. Why should not the alumni fittingly demonstrate their interest in such an intensely interesting event? And what demonstration could be more fitting than to supply one of the very greatest needs of the institution—a worthy auditorium?"

GEORGE W. REED, '88,
Uhrichsville, O.

"I will welcome the opportunity to be of some service to my Alma Mater."

W. DALE JONES, '20, Conway, Ark.

"I appreciate the opportunity of really doing something toward the memorial campaign. We are hearing all kinds of good reports about our Alma Mater, and I am sure we are ready to do our part."

STELLA EVERETT HASTINGS, '16
Kenton, O.

"I am in most hearty accord with the movement."

J. F. HENDERSON, '98,
Ashland, O.

SOME REACTIONS IN ATHENS

"We want the best auditorium in Ohio."—Professor Matheny.

"Let's put a chimes tower in it."—Professor Hoover.

"Let's not stop with $300,000. Let's make it half a million."—Henry Zenner.

"It's a fine thing to do."—Professor Coultrap.

"Put me down for my share."—Jimmy Gimman.

"Put me down for myself, my wife, and boy."—Watt Craig.

"This thing has just got to go over."—J. P. Wood, Jr.

"The most appealing proposition ever put forth in Athens."—C. H. Bryson.

"We will all get on the job."—Sam McCune.

"Of course if other institutions can, why can't we?"—Professor Morton.

"It will supply a much needed improvement, and it will say:

'They have not forgotten their heroes.'

'They have not forgotten their Alma Mater'

'They who know Ohio University best believe in her.'

'They are willing to help themselves.'

—Professor C. M. Copeland.

"I heartily endorse the proposition and believe it will have a tendency to direct the eyes of the State of Ohio, and even those of the nation to the future affairs of Ohio University."—W. H. Fenzel.

"The State of Ohio has been very generous to the students of the Ohio University in furnishing the means for a higher education practically without cost to the individual. In the movement to create a fund for building a commodious auditorium which is much needed, to be known as Alumni Memorial Auditorium, the first opportunity is presented alumni and ex-students to substantially recognize the benevolence of the State and do something worthwhile for their alma mater. The proposition will go over strong."—F. W. Bush.

"I believe the Memorial Auditorium is all-right and the University and City need such a building badly."—Scott Haney.

"I think the proposed Alumni Memorial Auditorium just the thing. The University is in great need of a larger auditorium. Athens and the surrounding country needs it. The Alumni and the friends of the Ohio University need some great purpose for united action to maintain the spirit of solidarity and active interest in the University. The whole state needs some enduring, worthy object through which to express her high appreciation for her brave sons who were ready to make the supreme sacrifice for the perpetuity of our nation and its institutions. This enterprise adequately and happily combines all these worthy purposes. 'Let's go!'"—S. K. Mardis.

"My reaction on the proposed Alumni Memorial Auditorium is entirely favorable, although it seems to me that the backers of the plan possibly did not have enough confidence in themselves. I cannot see why an old institution like this with a glorious past and a glorious future couldn't raise a million dollars for such a purpose. Other institutions of higher education without these traditions of Ohio University and with less than one-third of the number of living alumni have put across propositions through their alumni with enthusiasm and success which involved much more money than this. The trouble with us here at Ohio University is that we have not tested our wings and do not know how high we can fly."—W. W. McIntire.

"The memorial auditorium is a move in the right direction. The wonder is that something like that was not proposed and carried out years ago."—E. C. Woodworth.

"This seems to me to be a most worthy achievement for the alumni of Ohio University to aspire to. Besides fulfilling a decided need, both for the institution and the town, it will in its accomplishments do a great service toward crystallizing the spirit and loyalty of the alumni. More and more each year it is coming to be a recognized fact that a college or university is dependent for its stability and status on its alumni body. The decision on the part of the alumni to make their contribution to their Alma Mater in the form of an auditorium seems to me to be very much in keeping with the whole classical atmosphere in which and because of which Ohio University was originally established."—Irma E. Voigt.

"While I am not thoroughly familiar with this splendid project, I see no reason, with a splendid cooperative spirit among the graduates of Ohio University, why such a movement should not terminate successfully."—E. C. Berry.

THREE EDUCATORS FROM ATHENS ON THE PROGRAM

Three Athens educators addressed sectional meetings at the second annual educational conference conducted by the College of Education at Ohio State University on March 23, 24 and 25.

Miss Mary J. Brison, State Normal College, spoke before the sectional meeting dealing with a discussion of art; R. L. Morton, Ohio University, addressed the educational and psychological test section; and E. W. Chubb, dean of Ohio University, presided over the sectional meeting dealing with a study of the teaching English in the state school system.

You're Dated Up for Tuesday, May 16

OHIO UNIVERSITY DAY IS TUESDAY, MAY 16

In every city where there are Ohio University alumni, an alumni dinner will be held on that evening.

Every alumnus—that means every graduate and every former student—will be expected to sit down to dinner with all the other “Ohio” folks in his home town on Tuesday, May 16.

This Will Be the Greatest Day in the History of Ohio University Alumni

Wherever you are—Columbus, Steubenville, New York, Indianapolis, Pittsburg, Chicago—there will be an alumni dinner, and it won’t be complete without you.

TUESDAY, MAY 16, AND SAVE THE DAY
FOR ALMA MATER!

SHEPPARD ALUMNI DAY SPEAKER

Carl Dunkle Sheppard, '02, Akron, Ohio, is to be the Alumni Day speaker, June 10. Mr. Sheppard has been selected from among the distinguished alumni of the class which graduated twenty years ago as the representative of the classes which were in the university in 1902.

Mr. Sheppard entered the University in March, 1897, receiving the degree of Bachelor of Philosophy in 1902. He was manager of the Ohio University Quartet and Associate Editor of the Mirror. He is a member of Phi Delta Theta.

He has gained distinction in the field of journalism and was the secretary to Charles Evans Hughes during his presidential campaign. He has been on the staff of the Akron Press, the Akron Beacon, the Washington Post, and has been Washington correspondent for the New York Tribune, and the Scripps-McRae and Publishers' Press Associations. He is now a member of the law firm of Otis, Beery and Sheppard, in Akron.

A STATE OF MIND

“‘Letters asking for money are all that I ever get from the University,’ complained an alumnus of a state university, sometime since.

“Rather bad, wasn’t it? For four years the University had busied itself giving things to this young man. Why should it suddenly stop?

“The state had spent some $800 on him. He—or his father—had paid perhaps fifty dollars in fees. Wasn’t it natural that he should open a letter from the University expecting to find at least the interest on his fifty? If he had paid in eight hundred dollars and received an education costing fifty, he would have felt differently. A letter asking him to support an organization that exists merely to help the University was indeed an absurdity. The letter should have contained—well, now, what should it have contained?” — The Graduate Magazine, (Kansas)

If there are any Ohio University folks in a state of mind similar to that of the writer of the complaining letter—of course there aren’t—but if there should be any such, they’ll get a complete change of heart between now and Commencement time.

QUEEN CITY ALUMNI SHOW THEIR LOYALTY TO ALMA MATER

Sounding a strong note of enthusiastic concordance with the Ohio University alumni memorial building project and signifying their hearty backing of Ohio University's president, Dr. E. B. Bryan, alumni of southern Ohio meeting Saturday evening, March 11, at the Chamber of Commerce at Cincinnati for their annual banquet gave indication that they would come through with their quota for the erection of the auditorium.

An unprecedented number, fifty-seven alumni and friends of the institution, were present. Besides President E. B. Bryan, Hon. T. J. Davis of the board of trustees, L. D. McGinley '94, M. F. Andrews and others spoke. Hon. T. J. Davis spoke representing the board of trustees; L. D. McGinley, for two years president of the Cincinnati chapter of O. U. alumni organization, spoke concerning the work before alumni, and M. F. Andrews gave an address indicating the strength of the alumni spirit of cooperation and backing for the betterment of the university. Others desirous of showing their sincere concordance, gave extemporeaneous speeches.

During his stay in Cincinnati, Dr. Bryan was a guest at the home of T. J. Davis. President Bryan, Wednesday last spoke at convocation at his old alma mater, Indiana University. Saturday morning he spoke before an assembly of Hamilton county school teachers and Saturday noon he addressed members of the Cincinnati Optimists club at their luncheon at which he was Mr. Davis' guest.

SPEEDY ALUMNI DEFEATED BY VARSITY

The famous Davis-King combination that won a conference championship for Ohio University last year was humbled Thursday evening when the Ohio alumni bowed in defeat 22 to 15 to the fast varsity five. With this game Ohio University's basketball season was formally ushered out.

Fast and furious play marked the aggressive and defensive tactics of both teams. At times the old combination of Davis and King functioned to perfection and the ball was advanced with lightning-like speed through the Ohio defense but Davis was off form and he missed many of his shots. King was the star for the older men, netting five pasture goals.

Bell and Cowden played the leading roles for the Varsity, each garnering four field ringers. Odaffer played his usual fine floor game and Burkett showed good form. Earick played well.

Grover for the alumni showed that he was still in good shape and Harry Newman, now coach of the championship high school team of the state, Mt. Vernon, showed to advantage. Van Sickie was hurt during the game and was replaced by "Twink" Starr. The line-up:

Varsity (22)	Alumni (15)
Bell	Davis
	Right Forward
Cowden	King
	Left Forward
Odaffer	Grover
	Center
Burkett	Newman
	Right Guard
Earick	Van Sickie
	Left Guard

Field goals: King 5, Bell 4, Cowden 4, Odaffer, Burkett, Davis 2.
 Foul goals: Bell 2, Newman.

MEMORIAL IS FOR ALL

At a meeting of the campaign committee it was decided unanimously that there will be no individual memorials in the form of windows, tablets, or other designated objects in the Alumni Memorial Auditorium.

The building is to be as democratic in spirit as the University itself, and it is to be raised in memory of all the war dead of the University and her famous men and women of the past.

All subscriptions, therefore, will be made to the building as a whole and not to some designated object to be named in memory of an individual.

The memorial, to be the gift of all the alumni, is to represent all the fine achievements of the men and women of Ohio University in her glorious past.

— o. u. —

NAMES OF WAR DEAD WANTED

It is desired to complete the list of the Ohio University men who died in the world war. At present the records are only fragmentary. To the end that the war dead may be suitably memorialized in the Memorial Auditorium, the alumni and friends of the University are asked to send in names of University men who died in the world war. The Alumni Office wishes to get in touch with the families of those soldiers who died in order that complete records of their service may be secured.

DE ALUMNIS

'98—Dr. Joseph Tucker Ullom of Philadelphia, Pa., writes: "Mrs. Ullom and I made a hurried trip to New York, December 26 and attended the Ohio University dinner. We enjoyed it very much and were so glad to meet President Bryan. He is undoubtedly the right man and we wish him all the success possible. There were many of my old friends at the dinner and one whom I had not seen for twenty-two years, Professor Chapin who started me on the study of medicine." Dr. Ullom's address is Carpenter and Quincy Streets, Germantown, Philadelphia, Pa.

'99—Newman H. Bennett is practising medicine in Pittsburgh, Pa., 1912 Carson St.

'01—J. Claire Evans is living at 2271 Elm St., Denver, Colo.

Ex-'06—Orville F. Figlery writes: "The Bulletin brings back many pleasant memories." His address is Warehouse Department, Illinois Steel Co., Chicago, Ill.

'06 El. Eng.—W. F. Beasley writes from 504 Park Road, N. W., Washington, D. C., where he is an automotive and mechanical engineer.

'09 Civ. Eng.—Dr. Robert Nye, who for the past few years has been located in Buenos Ayres, Argentina, is completing arrangements for moving his family to Detroit, Michigan, where he will practice his profession. "Bob's" many friends will be glad to know that he has returned to the States.

'09—Julia L. Wilcox is teaching at Dawning School, Cleveland. Her address is 2906 Delmar Ave.

'10 El. Eng.—Sidney Watkins, 3422 De Soto Ave., Cleveland Heights, voices the sentiment of every loyal O. U. son and daughter when he writes as follows: "The activities of Ohio University, especially those of the Alumni Association, as brought to my attention by the Bulletin are a source of pleasure and I hope that they may continue and expand."

'10 Nor. Art—Mabel E. Winn, from whom we had not heard for some time, is teaching Manual Arts in the Spencer, Ohio, Schools again this year.

'10—Mrs. C. H. Verwohl writes from Martin's Ferry, O.: "The Bulletin always receives a warm welcome in our house with its news of old Ohio University friends."

'11—C. H. Verwohl is living at 616 Vine Street, Martin's Ferry, Ohio.

'11—Harriett Kelley writes from Coblenz, Germany: "I am still having an interesting time in Germany but within the next six months I hope to return to the best country on earth and the best state in the Union, namely, Ohio. While traveling through Italy last summer it was my privilege to spend a very pleasant evening with Miss Eaton in Rome, and needless to say the most important conversation of the evening was of 'O. U.' The Alumni Bulletin has helped to cheer many a day for me in Germany and I send best wishes for the success of every undertaking of the alumni association."

'12—Jay R. Patterson, long lost to the alumni office has been discovered at Spencer, Ohio. Miss Winn "told on him."

'13—Mrs. Lula Reiter Shirley is living in New Marshfield, Ohio.

'14—Jessie May Tresham is teacher of English in the Harrisville, W. Va., High School.

'14 Kdg.—An interesting letter has been received from Olive Roberts, who was on the "Lost" list last month. She has been Kindergarten Critic in the Montana State Normal College at Dillon since 1919, after she received her degree from the National Kindergarten and Elementary College in Chicago. She is teaching in a kindergarten room of her own planning. The teachers were permitted to give their ideas as to a model primary building to the architect with the result that the building contains many features not found in other schools. She recommends Montana unreservedly for teachers.

'14—Mary Elizabeth Reeves is a teacher of Industrial Home Economics in the Tacoma Public Schools. Her address is Rutland Apartments, Wright Park, Tacoma, Wash.

'15—Bessie A. Davidson is a teacher in the Clarendon School, Canton, O. Her address is 2527 Tuscarawas West.

'16—The many friends of Jennie V. Foster, Scio, Ohio, will regret to learn that on account of ill health she was not able to resume her work in the Bowerston Schools this year.

'16—C. C. Penzickes is a draftsman with the U. S. Light and Heat Corporation in Niagara Falls, N. Y. His address is 603 Vanderbilt Ave.

'17 El. Ed.—"Last August I tacked the name of Russell to my former name. Think the Bulletin is a God-send, for there is so much good information in it. Even my husband takes a back seat when it comes." This from Effie Shepherd Russell, who teaches Music in the Leggett Building, Akron, Ohio.

'17 El. Ed.—Edna A. Thomas, Barnesville, Ohio, enjoyed the reunion at Steubenville in February. She says, "We felt that we were back at old Ohio for one night."

'17 H. Ec.—Grace E. Moore is teacher of Home Economics in the Junior High School of Warren, Ohio.

'17—W. C. McAdoo of Steubenville, O., writes: "The enthusiasm at our reunion meeting was indeed a revelation. Our only prayer is that we can still keep alive some of this fire for future occasions."

'17—Vergie Gieseley is teaching in a fresh air school in Toledo, O. She writes: "I certainly have enjoyed this issue of the Bulletin. My very best wishes are for dear old Ohio." Her address is 910 Lincoln Ave.

'17—Elizabeth Fearin is teaching in Cincinnati. Her address is 2429 Fairview Ave.

'18—N. Conger is dean of the Normal Department of the Sue Bennett Memorial School, London, Kentucky.

'18—Esther Burer is a teacher in the Delaware, O., public schools. Her address is 94 University Ave.

'18—Nettie M. Strate has charge of a teacher training class in "Health Habits" in Minneapolis, Minn. She has planned a course of study for use in the seventh and eighth grades of the Minneapolis Schools, and has inaugurated the work this year in five of the buildings. She is now preparing a course of study for the grades below the seventh. Miss Strate began her work in Seward Junior High School, Minneapolis, with a course for girls and a course for boys. The courses succeeded to such an extent that she was asked to give a public lecture course on Hygiene during the winter of 1918-1919. She has copyrighted a set of "Health Habit Cards" now used in many school systems. She has been a principal until this year when she was appointed special instructor in hygiene for the Minneapolis schools.

'18—Gail H. Hill's address is 200 Clinton Ave., Findlay, O.

'18—Grace Pittenger Watt writes from Steubenville, R. F. D. 2: "I am hoping great things for the Ohio University in the future."

'19—Mary E. Green is teaching in the Newark, O., public schools. Her address is 273 Woods Ave.

'19—Goldie Sprankel Ostot is living in New Straitsville, O.

'20—Everett M. Starr, better known as "Twink" Starr, tennis champion of Huntington, W. Va., and well known at Ohio University, where he was an all-around athlete, has made arrangements to open a sporting goods store in Huntington, where he has been in business for several years. His father, C. E. Starr, of this city, will be interested in the business. The new concern will be known as the Starr Sporting Goods Co., and will carry a large line of sports equipment. The store will be the largest exclusive sporting goods business in the tri-state section.

'20—Edna A. Woodmansee is Assistant Music Supervisor in the Chillicothe Schools.

'20—Lillian I. Colley, teacher of Latin and French, Wellston, Ohio, writes: "I am enjoying my work immensely but the pleasure is not great enough to keep my mind from reverting to O. U. and the pleasures of the days spent there. May her prosperity increase."

'20—Emily R. Sutliff enjoys her work as teacher in East Cleveland.

'21—Helen Benard says she is enjoying Peru very much. Her school begins March 13. She also says that the Bulletin is very welcome as well as all other news from O. U.

'21—Flora McGee is teacher of English in the Marietta High School.

'21—Clark E. Williams, who lives at 29 W. Sstate St., Athens, Ohio, sends "a dollar's worth of boost for the Alumni Bulletin," and best wishes for good luck on the auditorium campaign.

'21—G. Harold Martin, who is studying law at Ohio State University, is living at 654 Ann St., Columbus. He won the third place in the O. S. U. Oratorical Contest this year and is an assistant in the English department.

'21—William L. Anderson is teaching mechanical drawing in the Highland, Ohio, high school.

'21—Stella J. Yoakem is living in Vigo, Ohio.

'21—Harold Martin writes from Ohio State University where he is studying law, "I sometimes wonder if the alumni (and there seems to be quite a few of them), if the alumni who merely write back, 'Best wishes for the Association,' realize that the way to boost it is to make good themselves."

CANTON ALUMNI DINE

An alumni dinner for the Ohio University men and women in the Canton district will be held at Hotel Northern, Sixth and Market Streets, Northwest, Canton, Saturday, April 15 at 6:30. President Bryan will be the speaker of the evening. Reservations should be made at once through Miss Madge Lindsay, 714 Gordon Place, N. W., Canton, Ohio.

The First Co-Ed Appeared Fifty-Four Years Ago

April first marks the fifty-fourth anniversary of the admission of women to Ohio University. April 1, 1868, Margaret Boyd, generally known and spoken of throughout her life as Maggie Boyd, was enrolled as the first woman student in the first university west of the Alleghanies.

At the time there was probably no objection to the presence of a woman on the campus, but there was some fear that the public might be unfavorable to such an innovation. The faculty therefore allowed her to register only as "M. Boyd," and by this unassuming title she was known during the first year of her work.

"During the first term of our attendance, Maggie and I were members of a large class in Latin which recited twice a week," says Professor John M. Davis of Rio Grande College. "Our teacher, Professor Adney, always rose at her entrance, greeted her by name and gave her a chair. Her air and bearing were modest and dignified, almost painfully marked for a few weeks by timidity. But the timidity steadily wore off. She had good lessons, recited in a clear and distinct voice, and at once secured the respect and admiration of the class. It was the same in other classes and in the Philomathean Literary Society to which her brothers belonged, and which gallantly opened its doors to receive her. Her place in the appreciation and love of the college grew steadily larger to the end of her course. On the week of her graduation, she and other members of the class of '73 who were Philomatheans, received their society diplomas from the hands of Hugh Morrison Lash, of the class of '70, and the hall rang with cheers at his closing words, 'For the first time in the history of Ohio University, a lady receives a diploma, and that a Philo diploma.'"

Mrs. Edwin D. Sayre, of Athens, who knew Margaret Boyd well, has written interestingly of her:

"Margaret it was who opened the doors of Ohio University for women students—but what a feat it was, in what a brave womanly way it was done, none of us can quite realize. Agitation there had been, plenty of it, fulmination, angry demand, noisy argument all in vain.

"But this gentle woman, believing that she had as good a right to a higher education at the hands of the State as had her brothers, believed moreover that if she claimed her right she would not be refused. So one day she quietly requested that she might be allowed the privileges of the classes. Leave was granted her to make the experiment, and day after day, 'M. Boyd' went her lonely way, the only woman in a college full of men. What courage it took you may guess. Those who know what a sensitive flower of woman she was, can but marvel, as I always did, at the brave spirit that dared even while it suffered. For herself alone, ardently as she desired knowledge, she would never have so defied precedent. But for the sake of the women to come after her, and all it would mean to them, she kept on her way, serene, dignified, victorious through sheer force of character, and we who come after her can never pay her honor enough.

"A less perfectly poised woman could never have carried it through to success for pitfalls there were many. But Margaret Boyd's selfless dignity supported her courage, and the door her gentle spirit opened will never again be closed."

In memory of Margaret Boyd, the University in 1907, erected Margaret Boyd Hall, a dormitory which accommodates eighty-five girls.

COLLEGE DEBATES WILL START SOON

Arrangements have been completed for the two dual debates, which will be held shortly by Ohio University's debating squad. The team has been working hard under the direction of Professor W. H. Cooper, head of the department of public speaking at Ohio University.

April 5, Marietta College's debating team will debate with Ohio University on the principle of the closed shop. The negative team of Ohio will debate at home and the affirmative at Marietta.

April 25 Denison University's debating team will meet Ohio's team on the same question. Ohio University's affirmative team will debate at home on this occasion, while the negative team will be working against the Denison affirmative team at Granville.

Ohio University's high school meets have been finished with the victory of Marietta High over Circleville High School debaters.

Marietta's negative and affirmative team won from the Circleville orators. Marietta High is now champion of the southern district.

ATHLETICS

Ohio Wins and Loses to Denison

In one of the hardest fought games ever seen in the Ohio Conference, Ohio University lost her second conference game of the year to Denison University at Granville, March 7. At the start it looked as if Ohio would walk off with the game, but at the final blast of the whistle it was noted that Denison was leading by the score of 29 to 25. The game was hard fought, and the results were in doubt until the last minute.

Denison visited Ohio at Athens the same week, March 11, and Ohio evened matters up, soundly drubbing them by the score of 36 to 16. Ohio took the lead early in the game and was never headed or in danger. By this defeat Ohio broke her long losing streak to Denison. We believe now that Ohio will in the years to come win her share of the games played with Denison.

Ohio's Second Best Year

Ohio closed her basketball season Thursday, March 16, by beating the Alumni 22 to 15, thus dropping the curtain on the second most successful season in the history of the school. At the start of the year Ohio was expected to have just a fair team owing to the fact that the services of three of last year's championship team were lost. At that, however, we looked to see Ohio finish well up in the conference. The first game was lost to Cincinnati, which for most teams and coaches would be disheartening. But not so for Ohio University. Collecting themselves they determined to come thru the rest of their games, and from that time on they showed the road to the rest of the conference teams.

Wooster was the only team giving Ohio any trouble for the lead, and not until late in the season did Wooster overtake Ohio. This we might say was due to the fact that Wooster played more games than Ohio. At the close of the season, by Wooster defeating Wittenberg, Ohio stood in second place in the conference. By her great showing this year, and winning the championship last year, Ohio University is one of the most feared schools in the state in basketball. In the last two years Ohio has played 41 games and won 35 of them. Two of the five were lost to professional teams in the East during a training trip.

Ohio Men On All State Team

Last year Ohio placed two men in All-State positions, with Davis on the first team, and King on the second team. Davis on the first All-Ohio team is the first Ohio University player to receive this honor. This year Earich was placed on the All-

State team, Odaffer on the second team, and Bell, VanSickle and Burkett received honorable mention. King, who ended his playing time at the close of the first semester, was given everything but a place on the All-State team. He was characterized by the writer as the gamest forward ever seen in the Ohio conference, which is a high tribute to be paid any basketball player. We believe Ohio has done well by having so many men in all-state positions, and we predict that at the close of next season, more than three may receive the honor. We are expecting another successful season.

EDUCATION AT LOW COST

Education for women can be secured at less cost at Ohio University than at any other state institution in the country, according to report of the University Woman's League, which has been carrying on investigation at universities of other states which admit women.

A census of the Ohio University women shows that from $5.25 to $9.00 a week covers living expenses, and that it is possible to get through an entire year with an expenditure of $5.00 for everything. Expense at the state universities in most other states are greatly in excess of this.

A number of girls make the money to pay their expenses by outside work, and 180 have been helped to secure an education through loans from Woman's League Fund. This fund is raised by the women students and replenished by the proceeds of the "Skit Show" an annual entertainment given by the University women.

GIRL STUDENTS AID MINERS' FAMILIES

Ohio University girls are serving the coal-mining communities of southern Ohio, according to a report of Dean Voigt, issued recently. The college girls have undertaken to do educational and social work in each community for women and children. They have established story-telling hours for the small children, sewing clubs for the girls, Saturday afternoon hikes and games for the young people, and for the mothers a course of lectures on sanitation, child-raising, and other topics in which mothers are interested.

Sunday school services are held in six communities, and an afternoon meeting is held in the Old Folks Infirmary near Athens.

The work is being carried on under direction of the University Y. W. C. A. and Woman's League.

A REMINISCENT WORD FROM DR. E. C. CHANDLER

At the meeting of the University Alumni at Steubenville, Ohio, February 25, a letter was read from Dr. E. C. Chandler, of Santa Monica, California, who was a student at the University in 1869.

"I am in receipt of your request to write a word to be read at the reunion of the Eastern Ohio Alumni Association," writes Dr. Chandler. "As you put it, 'A word that shall come as an echo of earlier days.' What a wonderful and what blessed faculty is memory.

"Here, for instance, are the memories of my experiences at the Ohio University, now buried deep under the strata of the accumulated events of nearly fifty-five years; and yet, at the mention, or thought of, that dear and venerable Institution, memories come trooping back as fresh and eager as children summoned from a brief recess. So eager are they, and so insistent, that I know not which to choose. But foremost I see a youth—a very unsophisticated youth—approaching Central Hall with faltering steps, with bated breath and reverent mien, for he believed that the wise men of the world were gathered there, as indeed, some of them were. Who can measure the profound and lasting impression of such an event on the susceptible mind and character of the young? But two terms of my entire college course were spent at the Ohio University, but it was my first experience in college life, and I found myself surrounded and inspired by an atmosphere of intellectual thought and activity, and I there learned, that reverent respect for those in authority, and for those older, wiser and more experienced than I, that abides with me still.

"Let any man beware to what extent he disillusioned the youthful mind of these high and holy ideals. It is the general elimination of such wholesome, and fundamental elements of character that has made possible the alarming reign of lawlessness of to-day. I sometimes think that we lay too much stress on the routine of study, and not enough on those epochal experiences that profoundly impress the life and character.

"I can count, on the fingers of one hand, the things that have largely shaped my life and character. After all, what is education, if not the residue of all instruction, study, and experiences that have left their impress permanently on the mind and heart?

"The Ohio University has wielded a mighty influence, not alone on the lives of her student body, but on the State and the Nation as well. When the Ohio University was founded in 1804, there were but twenty-three colleges in the United States. Now there are about six hundred. It was the first college established west of the Alleghany Mountains. Statesmen and lawyers, preachers and scholars, looked to the Ohio University as the only available source of higher education for all the vast territory of the West. Her's is a long, and honorable record; and as you sing her praise tonight, let me have a part in your joyous paean. I wish I might mingle with you socially tonight. I wish that I might also sit down to that fine banquet with you, for there is where I feel most at home. There is where I shine, (my plate). I have always felt some misgivings about my other accomplishments, but at the table I feel a sense of calm assurance amounting almost to vanity.

"But since I cannot be with you, I rise in my place, Mr. President, Ladies and Gentlemen to greet you all, and to tender my warmest felicitations to our new President, Dr. E. B. Bryan, and to congratulate the Alumni, the Student Body and all friends of dear old O. U.

"In the language of Tiny Tim: 'God bless us every one.'

AMERICAN UNIVERSITIES PLAN WAR MEMORIALS

With the World War three years in the past, colleges and universities over the whole country have become re-established and outgrown their pre-war standing and are now turning their minds to the erection of memorials for the men who gave in their country's service.

To a questionnaire sent by Vanderbilt University Alumni Association to American colleges and universities to ascertain the standing each took on the war memorial, one hundred and thirty-five answers came back with all but forty-one planning memorials of some kind. The information from these forty-one made it impossible to determine just what the college might do in the future.

Buildings as memorials have been named in thirty-five instances. Lehigh University is to have a $500,000 administration building, over one half of the required amount having been paid. Stanford has chosen as her gift a Memorial Hall, a building to be erected at a cost of $250,000; Iowa State is to have a million dollar Memorial Union and the University of Tennessee a Memorial Chapel. University of Georgia has raised $1,200,000 as a memorial fund for her men who died in the world war. Yale is perhaps the only University which has so far completed and dedicated the memorial to her men.

University of Georgia has raised $1,200,000 as a memorial fund for her men who died in the world war.

Vanderbilt has proposed an Alumni Memorial Hall. She found by the questionnaires that in many cases the money was raised by subscription from students, faculty, alumni and friends. At the University of South Carolina part of the money was appropriated by the State Legislature and popular subscription, the building to be a state as well as University memorial.

ALUMNI WIDELY SCATTERED

Although over 15,000 young men and women have attended the University in past years only about 3,100 are located. With a little attention on the part of all those who receive the Alumni Bulletin, it will be possible to locate many more. In all states of the union except South Carolina and in every county of Ohio there are Alumni. The Association must rely upon the County Chairmen in Ohio and the State Chairmen throughout the country to locate those whose addresses are not correct at headquarters.

The lists of the unverified addresses will be sent to County and State Chairmen within a short time and these Chairmen are strongly urged to organize a lists committee of people who are well acquainted in the territory covered. As rapidly as any one is located the lists committee should report the address to headquarters. This is very important work, both for the success of the Campaign and for the future of the Alumni Association and the part it will play in the life of the University.

Quotas will be based on the number of Alumni and former students which the university records show reside in any given territory. Quotas will be figured on May 1st. You should see that your list is as correct as possible by that date. After May 1st it will be impossible to revise lists and quotas to any marked degree.

ACROSS THE DIVIDEELISHA A. TINKER*Class of 1893

Hon. E. A. Tinker, Class of 1893, died suddenly at his home in Columbus, on March 21, 1922, of heart trouble. Mr. Tinker was a member of the State Utilities Commission at the time of his death. He was widely and favorably known in southern Ohio, having practiced law at Chillicothe for many years. At one time he represented Ross County in the Legislature.

In the death of Mr. Tinker, Athens, Athens County and Ohio University have lost one of their staunchest friends. In the years past he has been able to do much for his native county and alma mater.

CHARLES H. BROOKOVER

Class of 1894

Dr. C. H. Brookover, Class of 1894, died at his home in Louisville, Kentucky, Friday morning, March 17, 1922, and was buried at Morriston, Tennessee. At the time of his death he was at the head of the Anatomy Department of the Medical College of Louisville and was widely known in his life work.

Dr. Brookover was assistant in the Biological Department of Ohio University in 1897 and 1898 under Dr. Henry L. Chapin. Other positions held by him along the same line of work were in Buchtel College, Akron, Ohio; the University of Arkansas, Little Rock, Ark.; and Professor of Biology, Colorado College, Colorado Springs, Colorado.

In May, 1896, Dr. Brookover was married to Miss Fannie M. Custer, of Winchtester, Tenn., who with a daughter, Mary Ruth, are left.

Ohio University loses one of her most loyal supporters in the passing of Charles H. Brookover.

DR. HENRY L. CHAPIN

Word has come of the recent death of Henry L. Chapin, a former well-known member of the Ohio University faculty, at his home in Brooklyn, N. Y., after a brief illness. He was Professor of Biology in Ohio University from 1891 to 1900, having been the immediate successor of Dr. Mercer. On June 29, 1893, Professor Chapin was married to Eudora M. Hoffman, of Athens. For the last twenty-two years he has been connected with the public schools of New York and Brooklyn as Professor of Botany, Physiography and Biology. He was a member of the A. S. P. fraternity and for a number of years was the official editor of its magazine, "The Tomahawk." He is survived by a widow and two daughters.

O. U. CRADLE ROLLCLASS OF 1944

"The most important piece of news I have to offer is that I have a new relative in the person of a little daughter, Cleo Margaret, twenty months old, and as I fondly anticipate, a future student of old O. U.," so writes Mrs. Amy Evans Mitchell, '12, of Portsmouth, Ohio.

James L. Hupp, '16 and Mrs. Hupp announced the arrival of James Sherwood Hupp on January 11, 1922, at their home in Hemlock, Ohio.

B. L. HORN DIRECTS FEEDING OF 8,000 ARMENIAN ORPHANS

B. L. Horn, '01, has been made Near East Relief District Commander in the Kazachi District, Alexandrianople, Armenia. He has the responsibility for feeding and caring for over 8,000 orphans. He has the assistance of a dozen other Americans on the ground and many others over the world.

The officers are now forming central stations for all the work, cooking, laundrying, schools, etc. Mr. Horn writes interestingly describing the stations and the work that is being done by the Near East Relief workers and ends by saying: "It would be a crime of the ages to have kept 20,000 children from starving to death this winter and then turn them loose, either to starve next winter or eke out a miserable and useless existence like a pack of homeless starving dogs. But that end is not conceivable. We Americans will carry on this work that we have so well begun, and of which we have every right to be proud."

IN VAUDEVILLE

"My home town is Athens, Ohio, and has many things I am proud of including Ohio University in which I was educated," said E. M. MacWilliams, prominent vaudeville specialist, "but the leading feature, I think is its population."

"The population of the town is made up of 6,000 persons, 3,000 are males and 2,000 of these are possible candidates for the presidency of the United States."

MacWilliams is said to be the highest paid individual performer on the vaudeville stage and is spending his vacation in Miami with his wife's father, W. H. Garrett of Bay Shore Drive.

Although there are many fine things in his home town he is thinking seriously of giving up the stage and taking Miami as a permanent residence.—Miami, Fla., Herald.

FIVE-YEAR CLASS REUNIONS

The twenty year class comes back to the campus this year, bringing from their number the Alumni Day speaker, Carl Dunkle Sheppard of Akron.

The committee on alumni cooperation in the campaign, headed by Hon. I. M. Foster, of Washington D. C., wishes to urge on the alumni the desirability of making this year the reunion year for the five year classes as well as the twenty year class. This plan has been adopted quite generally at other institutions where it has the hearty approval of the alumni body.

This year on June 10 let us start the custom of bringing back the alumni in five year groups. The alumni in this schedule are 1917, 1912, 1907, 1902, 1897, 1892, 1887, 1882, 1877, and 1872.

Five years is long enough to stay away from Alma Mater if there is any possibility of coming back. Twenty years is too long. Let this year start the new plan with a large showing from the five year groups.
